

What is the Dignity for All Students Act?

The Dignity for All Students Act (DASA) protects all students from discriminations, sment and bullying based on race, religion, gender, national origin, ethnic group, and sexual orientation. This includeant in-personharassment.

What does bullying or harassment look like?

Bullying can take many forms, including:

- f Physicalabuse
 - o Hitting orpushing
- f Verbal taunting
 - Teasing, name calling, or offensive jokes
- f Social exclusion
 - Leaving students out or isolating students
- f Written harassment
 - o Graffiti, drawings, notes, ophotos
 - o Texts, emails, or other sociraledia

How do I know if my child is being bullied or harassed?

Some children may not share instances of bullying with adults. Signs that your child is being harassed an include:

- f Change inbehavior
- f Injuries, marks, obruises
- f Lost or destroyeopossessions
- f Complaints of headaches or stomathes
- f Difficulty sleeping
- f Low grades or loss of interestsiphool
- f Faking sick or avoiding thool

It is important to remember that all children will respond to bullying differently.

What is my school required tdo?

Your school should have policies and procedures in place to protect students from bullying and harassment. employees have been trained to recognize and respond to potential acts of discrimination and harassment.

In addition to official curricula and Codes of Conduct guiding student interactions, your school is required that a DASA coordinator who is responsible for overseeing the district's investigation of the incident, as well documenting that it occurred.

Once an incident is reported, the principal or campus designee is required to respond within two days.

What should I do if I believe my child is being bullied or harassed?

First and foremost, you should contact someone at your schooleport the incident. This can be the DA$A coordinator, the school principal, a teacher or counselor, or any other staffbre. If the bullying or harassment is based on your child's race, religion, gender, national origin, ethnic group, or sexual orientation, you can all directly contact the New York State Education Department in one of three ways:

- 1) Call our parent hotlinetæ00-469-8224.
- 2)