The Importance of Accurate Reporting

Accurately reporting all SSEC incidents provides your school and community with a realistic view of the areas your school will focus on as you continue to work to improve school climate and provide learning environments where all students feel supported and ready to learn. In particular, it is important to remember that Dignity for All Students Act (Dignity Act) incidents reported under categories Discrimination, Harassment, and Bullying, and Cyberbullying, apply to all students, not just protected classes and the Dignity Act does not require repetition for an incident to be defined as founded or material under the Dignity Act. Reportable incidents include incidents that occur only once, and those single incidents may have a significant impact on a student's learning environment.
